LONDON, Friday, May 20, 1853. We enjoyed, on Wednesday, May 18, the most spleaitality that even London can produce, from Mr. paiody, the American banker, who invited a small of 190 guests, to dine with him at the Star and ster Hotel, Richmond. He really astonished us all who ingenuity with which he had contrived to make entertainment superlatively elegant. We had the at glee singers of the London concerts to perform aring dinner, and the most eminent opera singers to ere a concert in the evening. The guests embraced sme of the most eminent persons in London, English and American, conspicuous among whom were ex-president Van Buren and son; Hon. Solomen Foot, U. 8 Senator from Vermont; the Countess of Glasgowand or sister, Miss Catherine Sinclair, the novelist and au " Beatrice." (the daughters of the Sir John Sinclair, who contributed so much late Sir John Shiciar, who contributed so much to agricultural improvements and British statis-tics, and well known to Americans as the acrespondent of George Washington;) Bishop McIl-vide and lady, Messra. Kemble, Paulding, Gerard, Spen-cer, Gardner, Clark, Allen, Perkins, Cooke, Raymond, e. Wainwright, Gilbert, Van Aleo, Hill, Richter, ine, and Lee, of New-York; Mr. Mathew, British Consul at Charleston, S.C.; Rev. Dr. Crocker, Epis sopal Rector, Providence, R. I.; T. B. Curtis, C. P. Cur-lis, T. B. Lawrence, Prescott, and others, Boston; Prof. Felton, Harvard College: Prof. Young, Dartmouth College; Hon. T. Butler King, of California, formerly M.C. Viscount De Alte, Lady Talbot de Malahide, Si Emerson Tennant, Lord Charles Clinton, Count de Stre-geki, Sir William Gore, Sir James Duke, Lady Chan-ner, Sir Henry Holland, Ald. Thompson, Sir John Wil-sen, Maj. Gen. Sir Archibald McDougall, His Excellency Señor and Madame Osma, Sir Charles Fox. Sir Retert Carden, Sir Peter Lawrie, James Morrison, Sir Henry Ellis, and several other celebrities. Several of gentlemen had their ladies with them. those gentlemen had their ladies with them.

Mr. Peabody handed in to dinner Miss Wilcocks, and shen took the chair, Mr. Ingersoll sitting next with the Countess of Giasgow, seated on side, and Bishop Mc-livaine, of Ohio, with Miss Wilcocks on the other. The Vice-Presidents were, Mesars. Stevens, Van Alen and Lawrence; Col. Van Alen officiating as Master of Cere-monles, and conducted the festivities with great good taste, so that every one felt attended to, among the growd of visiters, including the clite among the rank, alent and beauty of this enormous metropolis. The English were all glad of the opportunity to see some of the trans-Atlantic celebrities, and were particularly charmed with the Bishop of Ohio, and with the excel-lent Rector of Rhode Island. Miss Catherine Sinclair led in by young Mr. Van Buren, the son of the President. The bill of fare was then discussed by the guests, and the delicacies on the table soon dis

After the removal of the cloth, Mr. Peabody expressed the satisfaction he felt over this retinion of so many friends from the two great nations, and announced that the American Minister would respond to a toast. Mr. Ingersoll accordingly toasted the Queen, and President of the United States, and the people of both nations, accompanied with appropriate remarks, breathing a cordial feeling of international concord, and concluding with compliments to one of the guests, the ex-President of the United States, to which Mr. Van Baren briefly responded. Bishop McIlyaine, of Ohio, Baren briefly responded. Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, also spoke, and expressed his earnest wishes for peace and harmony between Great Britain and America. The speeches of ex-President Van Buren and of Mr. Ingersoll were most eloquent, and gratified the "meeting of all nations" around the hospitable board of Mr. Peabody, who also spoke with great eloquence and feeling on the deserve of response to provide the country and the deserve of response to provide the country and the deserve of response to provide the country and the deserve of response to provide the country and the deserve of response to provide the country and the country and the country and the country are provided to the country and asure of seeing so many of his own countrymen iated in friendly intimacy with his British guests Mr. P.'s speech was followed by the Scottish glee "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," The applicant The company did not break up before 2 o'clock. was rapturous.

ANOTHER OFFER TO MRS. STOWE .- The Newark Daily Advertiser says that a private letter from Rev. Charles Beocher, states that his eister, Mrs. H. B. Stowe, has received from Constable & Co., publishers at Ediuburgh, an offer for a Temperance Tale, like Uncle Tom's Cabin, o $10,000 in hand, and half the proceeds of the work after that our is realized. The letter also says: "If she have strength to do this, it will certainly contribute to haston the adoption of this great measure by Great Britain.'

INCREASING THE WOOL CLIP, - The Agricultor trans lates the following paragraph from the Chronique Agricole (French.) It is rather hard to swallow:

"About two years since a farmer named Virel, residing in the Canton of Chatelet, had one of his sheep seriousl tern and injured by a dog. Although he had but but bees of saving the annual's like, he decided on dressing a wound a which he did with some fatty substance, mixed its wounds, which he did with some fatty substance, mixed with the juice of certain plants. The animal soon recovered; and in about two months after, the farmer remarked that the wool on the parts which he had rubbed with his that the wool on the parts which he had rubbed with his proparation was much finer and longer than elsewhere. Determined to try a further experiment he last year pulled off all the woel from the bodies of six of his sheep, and rubbed them with the preparation for three days following and then turned them our with the others. At the end of August they were shorn, when they produced a much larger weight of wood than ordinary, and of a very superior quality. It is needless to say that he afterward extended his experiment to a greater number, and a tew days since he proceeded to what he calls his spring showing, when each of the animals yielded about five pounds of very superior wool. He calculates that by the aid of his process. each of the animals yielded about five pounds of very superior wool. He calculates that by the aid of his process, he will be able to have two shearings a year, spring and autumn. The grease he uses is said to be only mutton fat, but the herbs employed are a secret. However, the paper from which we translate intinates that the principal plants used are Semperrium Teterum and Carlidonium Majus, which are well known to be valuable curatives.

The clipper-ship Northern Light's best day's run, we understand, (says The Boston Atlas,) was 334 miles, and her average speed, from the time she left San Francisco until her arrival at Boston, 9 miles per hour. She was 38 days to Cape Horn, 14 from there to Rio Janeiro, and 24 days thence to Boston. The Boutta, also built by the Messrs, Briggs, is of precisely the same model; and they are now building for James Huckios, E-q. another ship of 1,150 tans, and also one for Curtis & Peabody, both modeled like the Northern Light.

NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS. - The regular monthly meeting of this body was held last night, at the Mercer House. Captain Fairchild in the Chair, Sergeant Peel was appoint ed to act as Secretary. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Secretary then read the report of the Sick Committee He reported that three of the members had been discharged from the Hospital, two partially recovered, and one at his own request. Three members receiving relief had been struck off the list for intemper ance, and one care in which relief had been applied for was not se yet decided on, as sufficient information had not as yet been obtained. The report recommended the increase of the allowance of sick members as the funds were at present in a condition to afford it. He also reported a resolution rom the Committee, that relief in every case should be reused to intemperate members. The reception and passage f the report and resolution, was moved and seconded, and after some discussion was passed with one dissenting voice. The meeting then adjourned. THE HOUSE PRINTING TELEGRAPH LINE TO BOSTON -IL is well known to those who are familiar with telegraph lines leading from this City, that the House Line, hence to Boston, has been, until within the last few months, scarcely more than a poor apology, it having been badly con structed, in the early days of telegraphing, and for several years afterward managed without skill, judgment, or economy. The original Company became very naturally, greatly embarrassed, and finally the Line, by direction majority of the stockholders, was sold under the hammer. a little over a year since, for scarcely enough to pay its debts. The Line then passed into the hands of a new Company composed of some twenty or thirty of the princircl commerci I houses of Boston, under the Presidency of E. D. Brigham, and the Superintendency of John Mc Kinney, a gentleman favorably known to the New-York public, as the Superintendent of the Bain Merchants' Line. at No. 29 Wall-st., who, when this (Bain) Line, passed over into the hands of F. O. J. Smith, last year, threw up his office and assumed the management of th House Line. Since then under the judicious di-rection of Mr. McKinney, the House Line has been repaired and made, to say the least, quite as reliable as any other lines of two wires leading out of this City. and as a natural consequence of its efficient management, has of late been doing is full share of the Commercial, and nearly all of the Press business between New York and Boston. From six months experience, we can safely affirm that there is no line of two wires in this City which has worked more regularly, rapidly and correctly, than this. As an evidence of prosperity, we may mention that the Company will, on the first of June, deel readiridend of seven percent from the earnings of the last six months. We understand that, encouraged by the flattering prospects of this Company, and impressed with the manifold advantages of the Printing Telegraph over other systems, several capitalists of this City have bought up a coniderable proportion of the stock of the Company, and are now making active arrangements to build a second line between this City and Boston on a new route, and on a new and greatly improved plan by which the projectors contidently expect to be able to work through to Boston at all imes, rain or shine.

We are pleased to learn that the line (the office of which is at No. 21 Wall-st, in this City, and on the corner of State and Congress sts., Bostop.) is to continue under the management of Mr. McKinney, than whom, a more efficient and obliging superintendent could not be desired.

THE LATE MURDEROUS ASSAULT IN EIGHTH-ST .-Monday night was assaulted by her husband. Thomas Kine, at their residence, in Eighth-st, near Avenue B, and struck upon the head with an ax, died yesterday at the New York Hospital, whither she was taken soon after the commission of the brutal assault. Coroner O'Donnell was notified to hold an inquest upon the body, and proceeded to the Hospital for that purpose, but in consequence of the absence of the necessary witnesses, the investigation was deferred until this morning at 11 o'clock. The accusedwho was arrested by Officer Brush, of the Eleventh Ward is still in cu-tody. Jealousy is said to have been the cause which impelled him to take the life of his wife. Whether or not be had just cause to suspect the constancy of his wife will probably transpire during the inquisition.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THE REDEEMER, Yourville.—This edifice, just completed, was on Pussday consecrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Wainwright. The Bishop and a large body of the clergy assembled at the house of Mr. Geery, one of the Vestry, in the immediate violalty of the building, where they formed into procession and entered the Church at 11 o'clock. The service was divided among the following elergymen: Rev. Dr. Carmichael. Messrs, Bedell, Richmond, Channey, (the Rector,) Chipman, &c., and an elequent sermen was preached by the Bishop from Islah, ch. 57 v. 15: "Thus saith the high and hely One," &c. This Church, which has been in contemplation for very many years, has at length been brought to a successful termination, through the great exertions of the Recter, (Rev. P. S. Channey) and other gentlemen who have been indefatigable in their labors. The design is early English, by Mr. J. Wood Johns, Architect, of New York City. The size of the building is 40 feet by 70; the roof is of open timber, in imitation of black-walnut; the flat portion of the roof is paneled, having molded diagonai bands, with bosses at their intersection, and from s nail octagon columns spring three arches, between each of the windows, producing au airy and elegant effect. Externally the Church is novel in its design, with buttresses at the angles and a series of the same on each side. In the centre of the front is a projecting mass of masonry, combining in ts general effect the solidity of the tower with the hightness of the bell gable, being supported on either side by buttresses, narrowing in their ascept at their several stages. From their summit springs a square bell-turret, terminating in four intersecting gables, surmounted in the original design with an early English cross. The walls are of brick: the front finished in mastic, presenting a surface like marble, of a brownish gray color, and for durability equal to gran-The Chruch, with organ gallery, will seat dearly 400, and its cost was about $7,500.

YANKER YAOHT VICTORY .- At the opening match of the Prince of Wales Yacht Club, on the 18th ult., there ap-Frince of Wales Yacht Club, on the 18th ult, there appeared the Truant, an American clipper, that possessed the advantage of a shifting keel, and could beat or run at such pace as to warrant the favorable opinion expressed of her. There were other very good things on the list, but the American so engrossed the attention of leading yachtmen that but little thought was bestowed upon them. As the time approached for the start, the most lively interest prevailed, and as they had to beat against a dead noser all the way down, it was quite evident that, barring accidents, the merits of the boats would be tested, and soor enough indeed they were. Mr J Berneastle, the Commodore, having inspected the yachts at their stations, gave he signal to ed the vachts at their stations, gave 'he signal to go off at 11 hours, 44 minutes, which was most promptly obeyed by the whole of the fleet. The Albatross was fairly under weigh, and next the Idas, but the Treaset almost im editety took the lead of the whole of the fleet, and sever forfeited her proud position. Her rig was of the sleet character, her fore sail and jib heing in one and, has the America leade to her boom. A more hundy craft was never seen on the Thames. Without reference to her keel shifting at plearure she showed herself infinitely superior to her rivals in working down. At Woolwich the Britannia was second, the Idas third, Julia fourth, Calbops, fifth. The Julia shortly afterward passed the Idas, and in this position they a rived at the flag boot just above Graveword the Truant being more than a quarter of an hour in advance of the Julia, and the latter 10 minutes before the Idas. They ran up to the return post as follows:

Process of Mathonism .- A correspondent of The Christian Advocate and Journal gives the following view of the increase of Methodists in this City:

During the Revolutionary war the population had di-Furing the Revolutionary was the copulation had di-minished very much, as many had field to the country on the approach of the British army, and a great position of the City was consumed by fire soon after that event, so that great suffering ensued and many deaths occurred. On these accounts the number of inhabitants had so decreased that in 1750 there could not have been over 15,000, as the entire population did not exceed 23,000 at the commence-ment of the war. Allowing this to be accurate, the num-her of the several decades from that time to 1850 will stand as follows, with the numbers of Methodists, and their pro-tocolor to the population in paradial columns:

This is, as far as the census of the City has been take This is, as her as the census of the City has been taken, but allowing that in 1852 the population amounted to 570,000, which it probably did; and as the number of Methodists at that date was 9,215, the proportion would be as 1 to 61, which is a little increase from 1850. From this estimation of comparison it will be seen that the least proportion was in 1780, when it was 3 i in 150; and that the least least was in 1800, when it was 1 in 80; and that the largest was in 1710, when it was 1 in 42; and that the largest was in 1820 and 1840, when it was 1 in 55, and in 1850, when it was 1 in 63. It will be perceived, therefore, that slace 1780 we have kept a pretty steady page with the increase of the lopal tien, though since 1840 there has been rather a retregade motion, from 1 in 51 to 1 in 63 and 1 in 61.

In defense, it is said that when plaintiff entered the market he exclaimed, "What a pretty market this is! what a "place to bring his goods!" and made other improper remarks; that defendant remonstrated, when plaintiff raised his arm in a threatening manner—whereupon defendant, as he had a right and was bound to do, by virtue of his office, in order to prevent disorderly conduct, ejected plaintiff from the market, but in doing so, used no more force than was necessary. By a Minister of the German Reformed Church, against Members of a "Committee of the Classis." (an ecclesiastical judicatory of the church) for presenting certain resolutions against him, and recommending proceedings to be taken against him (in the church) "for centumacy or contemptor misrepress mation in the matter of the statistics of his church, and for attempting to get money by prosecuting the Trustees of the Congregation in Forsyth at for salary for a period for which he received payment of the Congregation in Seventeenth-st". The resolutions were off-cred and adopted by the Classis on the 18th November, 1851, and neat day, we believe, Mr. E. entered the present suit at 1.w. He lays, as already stated, his damages at $5,000, In detense it is said the action of the Committee was privileged, Mr. Ebaugh having bound himself, with others, to abide by the desion of the Classis; and the question as ruled by the Court, was, whether there was malice or a want of probable cause.

It is contented, on the part of the plaintiff, that there was both. As to charge of wrong returns of members, he

It is contended, on the part of the plaintiff, that there was both. As to charge of wrong returns of members, he says that the return was made up from the book, and all that appeared there as not discharged or expelled, were returned as actual members, and that such course was usual; as to second, it was denied that there was any contempt; as to third, it was said the claim was for two years in Forsythst, previous to Mr. E. g. ing to Seventeenth st. and that ex-Jadge Jones, to whom the matter was referred, reported in his favor for upwards of $2,000.

It was said that after the Committee had been sued on the present suit, they laid the fact before the Classis, who, at the time, took no further notice of it. The trial of Mr. Ebsugh before the Classis, on the recommendation of the resolutions here complained of, was proceeded in fleaving

Proceedings were then entered against Mr. Ebaugh, in the Classis, for mailtions prosecution in commencing this suit, on which he was adjudged guilty, and uspended from the ministry. He appealed to the particular Synod, which confirmed the decision, and he further appealed to the general Synod, low, we believe, about to be in session at Philadelphia, and on which appeal action has not yet been had.

The respective counsel in the present suit summed up the case yesterday, the counsel for defense contending that whatever had been done was privileged, for probable cause, and without malice, while the counsel for plaintiff insisted upon the reverse. Verdict this forenoon.

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

WEDNESDAY, June 1-P. M There was a fair amount of business doing at the More ing Beard without important variations in prices, but will generally a firm feeling. The principal advance was in Parker Vein, which went to 24, and afterward at the Second Beard to 341. At the Second Board the tendency of the market was upward, especially for Canton, which was in demand and sold as high as 312. The movement comes from Baltimore. Morris was steady; Erie is dailer and heavy at about 883. The uncertainty in regard to the earnings of the past six months, after the payment of the interest, continues to have a depressing effect upon this stock. The statement that the floating debt is five millions, current in the street, is, we are informed, untrue. It is about two and a half millions, one million having recently been liquidated by the proceeds of a portion of the new bonds negotiated with Messrs. Gilbert, Coe & Johnson. The fancy Railroads generally were firm. The corner is Phonix does not yet draw. Cumberland is quiet and steady. The sales of Nicaragua are considerable—some 4,000 shares at the Second Board-but the price remains about the same. The premium Roads are held very firmly. Government 6's sold at 120 dividend off, which is an advance. Railroad Bonds are in fair demand and firm.
